SEQUATCHIE VALLEY HEAD START typically serves about 440 families each year in a five-county region at the southern end of the Appalachian mountain in southeast Tennessee. The program, operated by the Sequatchie Valley Planning and Development Agency, is funded to serve 377 children spread across 1,847 square miles of mountains and valleys in Bledsoe, Grundy, Marion, Rhea, and Sequatchie counties. The program has just over 100 employees, including a central office staff of 16, not shown here. Not all our staff members were available for pictures.
